Description

This practical carrying case offers plenty of space for your table-top oscilloscope or other devices of similar design and the matching accessories. Due to the sturdy design and high-quality padding, your measuring device is well protected during transport to arrive undamaged at the place of use. At the front, there is an attached pocket in which the respective measuring accessories, e.g. probes and power cords, find their place. The carrying case can be carried with the sturdy handle, but it is also possible to carry the case over the shoulder with the enclosed carrying strap.

Technical features

- Carrying case for various oscilloscopes
- Extra pocket for measuring accessories
- Inner padding to protect the oscilloscope
- Zipper for secure closure
- Velcro fastener on measuring accessory pocket
